If approved for adoption, we will need to copy your driver’s license, and we will provide as much up-to-date medical information as possible concerning your pet. All pets must be spayed and/or neutered before leaving our program. Pet can be returned at any point for any reason, and must be returned to us if they don’t work out.

Thank you for completing this questionnaire. Please note it is not our intent to invade your privacy. Our purpose is to find a caring, responsible, and humane permanent home for our animals, and at the same time find a suitable pet for you to love and enjoy for many years. By signing the below, you are also indicating that you understand the risks associated with adopting a new pet into your home, and that you hold Paws 4 the Cause, inc. and any of its’ associates or associations harmless and will not sue in the event that dog chews, messes, destroys or bites a person while in your care. Paws 4 the Cause and its’ associates accepts no liability for any of these or any other problems. It is the new owner’s responsibility to keep the dog secure and properly vetted.

The cost of adoption is much cheaper than the amount of money that we put into your new dog. After vet bills, de-worming, food, room and board, we end up taking a significant loss in the interest of placing the animal in a loving environment quickly. The difference comes out the pockets of the people who donate their time here, so if you feel like donating the difference, that is always welcome, though not required. Our average vet and food bills for a rescue dog is typically between $200 and $300 for the first month.
